

Name: Katie Ogley

Organisation and role: The Dome, Training and Development Co-ordinator

School experience: Balby Carr Community Sports College

After attending the employer engagement training through the DE4L project, Katie Ogley went into Doncaster's Balby Carr Community Sports College to talk to students about careers in the leisure and hospitality industries.

Katie is the Training and Development Coordinator for The Dome in Doncaster, so she is well placed to share her expertise and experience with the Year 10 students, advising them how to enter the leisure and hospitality industries and how to get ahead.

She said: "The programme was fantastic and I'd go on it again if I could! I'd actively encourage colleagues and friends to take up this course as I think it would benefit people at any stage of their career and no matter what industry they're in."

Since her first visit to Balby Carr Katie was keen to continue the relationship and so has attended other sessions and career events with the students since.

"The experience has been beneficial to me both professionally and personally. It's great for the industries we work in because we're advising future employees about the right path to go down and qualifications to gain.

"Personally I enjoy being able to guide students in a way that was never available when I was at school by giving practical career advice.
